Andrea C. Gore (Committee Chair and Professor, Pharmacy) submitted the following proposal on behalf of the Faculty Rules and Governance Committee (FR&G) recommending changes to the composition of the Faculty Council to include lecturers and clinical faculty who are also voting members of the General Faculty. The proposed changes align with the criteria that determine voting members of the General Faculty (HOP 2-1010) that were updated in Spring 2016 (D 14482-14489). On July 6, 2017, the FR&G unanimously approved the changes, which are considered editorial and do not need Faculty Council approval.

HOP 2-1110
FACULTY COUNCIL
[ Sections 1-6: excerpt from Regents Rules and Regulations Rule 40101 – “Faculty Role in Educational Policy Formulation”]
......

A. Authority and General Functions
{No changes to this section.}

B. Committees
{No changes to this section.}

C. Membership
1. Composition. The membership shall be divided into categories as follows:
   a. Elected faculty members with vote. The Council shall include sixty-two (62) or more voting members of the General Faculty with vote elected as follows:
      i. The faculty member who is elected to serve as the secretary of the General Faculty shall be an ex officio member of the Council. The secretary of the General Faculty shall also serve as secretary of the Faculty Council.
      ii. The faculty member who is elected to serve as chair (or as chair elect in the absence of the chair) of the Graduate Assembly shall be an ex officio member of the Council.
      iii. Twenty (20) voting members of the General Faculty elected at large in odd-numbered years to serve two-year terms commencing on the first-class day of the fall semester following their election, distributed as follows:
          a. Ten (10) from the group of professors and associate professors.
          b. Ten (10) from the group of assistant professors and non-tenure track faculty members who are voting eligible under HOP 2-1010.
      iv. Forty (40) or more voting members of the General Faculty elected in even-numbered years by the colleges and schools to serve two-year terms commencing on the first-class day of the fall semester following their election (see Policy Memorandum 2-1120-PM for an explanation of how seats are allocated among colleges and schools and how "free" seats may be given to smaller colleges and schools.)

{No further changes}
HOP 2-1120 of the Handbook of Operating Procedures contains information regarding the Faculty Council. The following rules and regulations of a procedural nature constitute the by-laws of the Faculty Council.

1. Election of Members
   a. The schedule for Council elections shall be as follows, with election of all-University representatives (those elected at-large by the General Faculty) in odd-numbered years and election of college or school representatives in even-numbered years:
      All-University (nominating) primary election -- second week in March
      All-University final election -- first week in April College or school (nominating) primary election -- second week in March College or school final election -- first week in April
   b. The electors in all-University elections shall be the voting members of the General Faculty. There shall be just one constituency in the primary and final election of all-University representatives, but this constituency shall vote on two separate panels:
      1. a panel made up of non-tenure track faculty members who are voting eligible under HOP 2-1110 and assistant professors and
      2. a panel made up of associate professors and professors.
   c. The electors in each college or school election shall be the voting members of that college or school.
   d. All candidates, both all-University and college or school, shall be voting members of the General Faculty.
   e. Elected members shall take office on the first-class day of the fall semester following their election.
   f. No elected member shall serve for more than two successive terms.
   g. Faculty members on phased retirement, or modified service shall not be eligible to serve on the Faculty Council.
   h. Vacancies shall be filled from the original panel in the order of the preferential ranking in the election of the member whose seat is being filled. For an elective position, either two consecutive unexcused absences or a leave of absence for more than one semester shall create a vacancy. A member may have an absence excused by contacting the Office of the Secretary.
   i. The Chair of the Faculty Council shall inform the Secretary of the General Faculty of any vacancy as soon as possible after the vacancy has been created.
      1. Distribution of Seats Among Colleges and Schools. The number of voting members shall determine the number of seats given to a college or school, provided, however, that a college or school that would not be entitled to a seat on the basis of proportional representation, shall, nevertheless, be given one "free" seat. The distribution shall be made in two steps:
         a. Ascertain those colleges or schools with fewer voting members than the quotient obtained by dividing 40 into the total number of voting members of the General Faculty. One seat shall then be allotted to each such college or school.
         b. Apportion 40 seats among those colleges and schools with enough voting members to receive at least one seat by apportionment. The quota for a seat by apportionment shall be the quotient from dividing 40 into the sum of the number of voting members in such colleges and schools. The number of seats allotted to each such college or school shall be equal to the number of times its faculty is the multiple of the prescribed quota, the undistributed balance of the 40 seats to be allotted to the colleges or schools having the largest remainders.

A reapportionment of the college and school seats shall be made in early spring of even-numbered years. The Secretary of the General Faculty shall make the apportionment applying the method prescribed above.

3. Method of Election. All-University elections and elections for colleges or schools having two or more elective representatives shall use the election method prescribed below. Colleges or schools having only one elective representative shall use a method determined by the Secretary of the General Faculty. All voting shall be by secret ballot, either electronically or by mail.

a. Nominating or primary election. In an election in which one or two seats are to be filled, a voter shall nominate in the primary election no more than one candidate. In an election in which more than two seats are to be filled, the voter shall nominate no more than two candidates. (In the selection of the all-University representatives, up to two names chosen from a group consisting of assistant professors and non-tenure track faculty members who are voting eligible under HOP 2-1010 and up to two names from a group consisting of associate professors and professors shall be nominated by each voter.) The persons receiving the highest number of nominations shall be the candidates for the final election. At least two names shall be presented for each place, unless, in the judgment of the Secretary and consistent with fairness and the spirit of these rules, there is a practical reason for a different number.

b. Final election. The following preferential voting process, the Hare-Clark System, a version of the Hare System, shall be followed in the final election of all-University representatives.

i. The final ballot and the casting of the vote
   a. On the final ballot the names of the nominees shall be either in alphabetical order or in random order (that is, with all orderings equally likely). In all-University elections there shall be two separate and distinct ballots, one for candidates nominated from the group of non-tenure track faculty members who are voting eligible under HOP 2-1010 and assistant professors, and the other for the candidates nominated from the group of associate professors and professors. Each voter shall record his or her choices for the positions to be filled in order of preference, the number "1" indicating first choice, "2" second choice, and so on, through all of the voters' choices.
