INTRODUCTION

This report describes the University of Texas at Austin (UT) faculty and staff responsibilities and resources for assisting undergraduate and graduate student international study, research and service. The first section describes faculty members’ formal responsibilities for students who participate in international programs. When a faculty member is authorizing students to travel abroad or leading students on programs outside of the U.S., she/he is operating within her/his “course and cope of employment” responsibilities as a faculty or staff member. The second section discusses UT expectations of faculty when problems or challenges arise with students in off-campus and international programs. The third section discusses UT offices that provide resources to assist faculty and staff. A fourth section describes insurance products offered through the UT System for addressing risks of off-campus and international programs. A final section discusses potential faculty liability for risks associated with student participation in off-campus and international programs.

FACULTY RESPONSIBILITIES FOR STUDENTS ON INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

This section describes faculty and staff responsibilities for supervising one or more students who travel outside of Austin, Texas on any study, research, service or volunteer programs that have been approved or acknowledged by The University of Texas at Austin (UT). This section lists formal required actions required under all conditions. A subsequent section discusses informal expectations of faculty/staff under risk conditions.

Required Formal Actions

Table 1 below lists formal faculty or staff responsibilities and how a faculty or staff member is expected to fulfill those responsibilities. Most required actions involve one of 3 activities: preventive actions to avoid complications; registration or processing of information or payments on websites; and completion of forms, either as a matter of record or in the event of an incident. Attachment A includes a copy of each form as a reference.

FACULTY AND STAFF RESPONSES TO A RISK OR CRISIS

This section discusses expectations of faculty leading students abroad when issues arise that require a rapid response. A faculty leader’s responsibilities in an emergency or crisis include:
• Guiding student(s) to immediate safety (shelter in place if needed)
• Gathering information for defining the emergency and options to address it
• Calling International SOS for assistance (+1 215-942-8478)
• Calling UT for emergency support (+1 512-669-8488)
• Completing Incident Reports
• Address student concerns and care
• Administer discipline process on site
• Communicate with the officials at UT and UT System, as needed
• Establish student expectations for behavior in response to the emergency

Faculty and staff should be acquainted with region-specific health and safety concerns of the region to where they are allowing students to travel. Faculty should prepare all students with appropriate risk information prior to departure to be ready to respond to any case of an emergency, risk, or crisis abroad. Information can be provided through discussing the Code of Conduct, holding a pre-departure orientations, conducting an on-site orientation, or distributing emergency contact information.

Faculty and staff also should prepare an Emergency Action Plan (ERP) prior to departure. Students should be informed about the ERP. One component of an ERP is a file of key documents, such as a copy of each passport and visa, emergency contact information, a copy of each insurance card, a copy of each International SOS card, a copy of each of home (and international) driver’s licenses, and information on communications devices (mobile phone, PDA, calling stored card, etc.). The faculty sponsor ought to bring some funds (local currency, some U.S. dollars, credit/debit card) to be prepared in case funds are required to deal with the emergency. Faculty should bring a first aid kit.

Faculty and staff have three UT resources to contact in times of emergency. The International Risk Analyst is UT’s official 24/7 crisis manager for international emergencies. Faculty and staff who are overseas and need emergency assistance should call International SOS at 1-215-942-8478 or the UT Police Department (UTPD) at 1-512-471-4441. International SOS accepts collect calls, and is available to assist with overseas medical, security, or legal emergencies. Faculty or staff are unable to make a phone call but need emergency support can also email the International Office’s Global Risk and Safety Unit at emergencyabroad@austin.utexas.edu.

Once International SOS or UTPD is called, Risk Analyst Jess Miller (jessmiller@austin.utexas.edu; +1 512-471-0341) is immediately notified.

The UT Study Abroad Office can provide guidance with issues related to credit, student concerns, behavioral issues, communication with parents, and other issues.

The International Crisis Advisory Team (ICAT) may be called into action during major crises that require a coordinated response by the university (e.g. natural disaster, political/civil unrest, pandemic, student death, etc.)

Faculty and staff should file an Incident Report forms for any case, including medical cases, robbery/burglary, aggravated assault, sexual harassment/assault, dating violence, stalking, missing students, fires, and disciplinary matters. Paper and electronic copies of these forms should be kept away come. A faculty member may want to collect a full set of incident report forms 30 days in advance of departure to be ready for any eventuality. It is the Program Coordinator’s responsibility to complete an Incident Report form in any study abroad programs. It is the faculty director or assistant’s responsibility to complete Incident Reports in departmental programs.

Handling a Medical Emergency
In the event of a medical emergency, faculty and staff should seek appropriate medical care, call International SOS and the UT Emergency Line (512-669-8488). Faculty should maintain communication with the students affected and protect any student’s right to privacy. International SOS will provide guidance to locate suitable clinics/hospitals, locate English-speaking doctors, arrange medical evacuation services and other advice. UT’s 24/7 Emergency Line will facilitate communication with UT officials, the media, the student’s emergency contacts, and other necessary individuals. If the emergency requires immediate action due to risk of injury or loss of life, or if a situation arises where there is not time to wait for guidance from the international SOS or the UT 24/7 Emergency line, the faculty member ought to act in a thoughtful and compassionate manner comparable to a situation where the faculty member would deal with an emergency within her/his own family.

Recognizing and Responding to Students in Distress
Students in distress include students suffering from stress, anxiety, depression, eating disorders, health concerns, alcohol and drug-related issues, gender/sexual orientation issues, violence, family matters, romantic relationships, and academic concerns. Faculty and staff should recognize and identify the potential harms a student may be causing to her/himself. These harms include high risk drinking, hazing, interpersonal violence, sexual harassment, anxiety, changes in emotional state, repeatedly skipping class, social withdrawal, decline in academic performance, or depression.

Faculty and staff should express concern, listen, acknowledge, and offer hope to the student(s). Faculty may start the conversation by stating what they have noticed. It is appropriate to ask a question to open up the dialogue with the student, such as asking questions about the student’s personal safety. Faculty can acknowledge that it is difficult for a students to express their concerns, and offer gratitude to them for speaking up. Faculty and staff can approach and respond from a place of care and compassion, and avoid judging or normalizing the student’s experiences and offer hope.

Faculty and staff can call International SOS (+1 215-942-8478), the UT Emergency Phone (+1 512-669-8488), the UT Counseling and Mental Health Center (CMHC) Crisis Line (+1 512-471-2255), or the Behavior Concerns Advice Line (+1 512-232-5050) for more assistance. If the student expresses thoughts of suicide, loss of reality, or disruptive/threatening behavior, faculty and staff are required to take immediate action by calling Student Emergency Services and Study Abroad (studentemergency@austin.utexas.edu, +1 512-471-5017). Kristen Anderson, the Student Emergency Services Director, handles these cases (krista.anderson@austin.utexas.edu).
Confidential reporting options are also available through the CMHC office (+1 512-471-3515), University Health Services (+1 512-471-4955), or the Employee Assistance Program (+1 512-471-3366).

If a faculty member believes that there is a risk of an immediate loss of life or injury to self or to others that would occur before a call can be made to International SOS and/or the UT Emergency Phone or the CMHC Crisis Line, UT expects the faculty or staff member to act with “reasonable care” using appropriate conduct and judgement.

Reporting a Crime
If a student or faculty or staff has reported a crime, faculty and staff should call International SOS. International SOS will inform the UT Risk Analyst, Jess Miller, and she will work to report the incident.

Responding to Student Conduct
A supervising faculty or staff member authorizing or leading students abroad is expected to address directly any student misconduct on-site. The disciplinary process is initiated when a student is suspected of violating any of the following rules, laws, or policies:

- The University’s expectations for conduct articulated in Subchapter 11-800 of the Institutional Rules;
- A provision included in the Study Abroad Code of Conduct;
- Any rule, regulation, or expectation for conduct established by the Host Institution; and
- Any municipal, regional, or country law and/or statute applicable to the program’s location.

For the purposes of this document, the terms “student” and “participant” include any individual enrolled at UT Austin in a study abroad program officially associated with The University. Prior to departure, faculty and staff can review student discipline records to ensure eligibility for study abroad during application. Faculty and staff must complete a Faculty Disposition Form, an Incident Report Form, and a Misconduct Resolution Process form to report inappropriate student conduct.

Any individual or agency may report allegations of student misconduct. Upon receiving an allegation of student misconduct, the Faculty Director, Site Director, Exchange Coordinator, or Program Assistant (referred to as the “Program Representative”) may initiate the disciplinary process as contained in this document. Following receipt of an alleged misconduct violation, the Program Representative will investigate the situation. Typically, this investigation will involve the Program Representative meeting with the student to discuss the allegation in a disciplinary conference. During the disciplinary conference, the Program Representative should discuss the nature of the allegation, the regulations or policies allegedly violated, the disciplinary resolution process, and the student’s response to the allegations. At her or his discretion, the Program Representative may also choose to speak with any witnesses deemed relevant or review any written materials related to the misconduct allegation. If, following the investigation and disciplinary conference, the Program Representative determines that the greater weight of credible evidence supports a finding that the student violated the regulation or policy at issue, he/she may impose any three disciplinary options: verbal warning, written warning, and dismissal from the study abroad program, as discussed below.

A Program Representative may issue a verbal warning if he/she observes or has determined that a student’s behavior is not in accord with the rules, laws, or policies identified above. The Program Representative should have a frank discussion with the student regarding expectations and consequences. Upon determining that the student is in violation, the Program Representative may issue a verbal warning that includes the likelihood that more severe disciplinary action will be taken if further violations follow. The Program Representative will send an e-mail summary of the verbal discussion to and copy the student on this correspondence; this e-mail should include the exact date and time that the verbal warning was issued. This serves as documentation and provides written clarification to the student.

Upon determining that the student is in violation, the Program Representative may issue a written warning. While written warnings typically occur in situations where a student has engaged in misconduct following a verbal warning, they can be issued for first violations when deemed appropriate. Written warnings constitute notice that a student’s behavior is unacceptable and that further violations will result in the student’s dismissal from the program. If deemed necessary, the Program Representative may restrict the activities of the student if such activities are directly related to the violation at issue. Program Representatives are encouraged to work with the student in composing the written warning so that the student becomes fully aware of the issues. Written warnings, whenever possible, should be faxed or otherwise communicated to Study Abroad within 24 hours of the occurrence. The Study Abroad Office may distribute the information to other campus units, as appropriate. A written warning should include: (a) the date and time that written warning was communicated; (b) the location of the incident; (c) detailed description of the undesired behavior, and why it was considered inappropriate; (d) clearly stated expectations and consequences (including restricted activities, if applicable) that will remain in effect for the duration of the program; (e) an indication that this is the final warning and any continuation of the undesirable behavior will result in immediate dismissal with possible financial penalties, including but not limited to loss of any program fees paid may be required to reimburse UT Austin for financial aid received.

A participant may be dismissed from a study abroad program if she/he either fails to meet the conditions of a prior Written Warning or commits a violation warranting immediate dismissal. Behaviors which may lead to dismissal include, but are not limited to: academic misconduct; eviction from housing on grounds of inappropriate conduct; exceeding the number of unexcused absences from class allowed for the program; destruction of property; posing a safety hazard to oneself or others; and/or criminal conduct. If, after the investigation and disciplinary conference, the Program Representative believes that dismissal is appropriate, he/she will contact Study Abroad to discuss the situation and receive authorization to proceed. Study Abroad may conduct an independent investigation of the incident and may request additional information.

If a decision to dismiss the student from the program is made, the Program Representative will issue a Dismissal Notice to the student. The Dismissal Notice should state the study abroad conduct violation(s) and notify the student that he/she is no longer considered a participant in the program and must leave the contracted housing by a designated date and time. The Program
Representative should have the student sign a statement indicating that he/she understands that he/she is no longer a participant in the student abroad program. If the student refuses to sign the statement, the Program Representative should have a witness sign a statement indicating that the student has been verbally informed of the dismissal but refuses to sign the statement. An example of an acknowledgement statement is:

Acknowledgement Statement

“I understand that due to my inappropriate behavior in violation of the Study Abroad Code of Conduct that I signed upon acceptance into the program, I am no longer eligible to participate in this program. I understand that effective immediately I am no longer a study abroad participant under the sponsorship of The University of Texas at Austin and that my insurance coverage will be terminated in three days. I understand that I may appeal the misconduct resolution decision and/or sanction assessed by the Program Representative by submitting a written appeal to the Vice Provost for International Programs within 24 hours from the time the misconduct resolution was communicated”

The faculty members should fax or scan and e-mail the completed Dismissal Notice to the Study Abroad Office within 48 hours after the it has been transmitted to the student. Study Abroad will be responsible for informing any other appropriate campus offices or officials. Although dismissal from a study abroad program does not constitute dismissal from The University, The University may elect to impose additional sanctions pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules. If a student from another institution is attending a UT Austin study abroad program and is subject to disciplinary action while in the program, the student’s home institution will also be notified.

An accused student may appeal the misconduct resolution decision and/or sanction assessed by the Program Representative by submitting a written appeal to the Vice Provost for International Programs within 24 hours from the time the misconduct resolution was communicated. The written appeal must state the specific reasons for the appeal and must include any related argument, including relevant documents or witness statements. The Vice Provost for International Programs may approve, reject, or modify the misconduct resolution decision or sanction(s) in question. Before making a decision on the appeal, the Vice Provost for International Programs may, at his/her discretion, communicate with the Program Representative, the accused student, or any witnesses by phone. The action of the Vice Provost for International Programs should be communicated in writing to the accused student, Program Representative, and the Study Abroad Director within 24 hours of receiving the accused student’s written appeal – the Vice Provost may take additional time in making a decision on the appeal if justified by the circumstances. If the accused student’s appeal is received over a weekend or university holiday, the Vice Provost for International Program’s decision will be communicated by the close of business on the next full workday. The decision of the Vice Provost for International Programs will be final.

In circumstances where a student is appealing the Program Representative’s decision to dismiss the student from the student abroad program, the Program Representative may, at his/her discretion, ban the student’s presence from any premises directly affiliated with the student abroad program until such time as the appeal is resolved by the Vice Provost for International Programs. If the student is removed from housing affiliated with the study abroad program during the appeal period, the student will be required to find alternative housing at his/her personal expense.

Upon issuance of a Dismissal Notice, the student’s participation in the study abroad program shall be concluded immediately. Dismissal of a student from the program shall not diminish or otherwise affect the student’s obligation to make any and all payments to UT Austin and/or the program provider. Dismissal from the program will result in grades of F being assigned to all coursework for a faculty led program participant and may result in an obliteration of the official registration record (e.g. student’s registration deleted for the applicable term) or withdrawal from the applicable term for an exchange or affiliated program participant.

In addition, the student will not be entitled to a refund of fees, may be required to reimburse UT Austin for financial aid received, and is responsible for all non-recoverable costs incurred by the host institution as well as personal financial obligations, e.g., utility bills, rent. A student’s registration at UT Austin may be blocked pending fulfillment of all such financial obligations and/or disciplinary action. Once a student has been dismissed from the program, he/she shall be required to absent him/herself from all premises used by the program for the duration of the program and return to the United States at his or her own expense.

INSURANCE POLICIES FOR INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS
AT THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT AUSTIN

The University of Texas at Austin (UT) and the University of Texas System (UT-System) maintain a number of insurance policies that protect faculty, staff and students who participate in study, research, service or outreach programs outside of Austin and the United States. This section provides a summary of most of those policies that protect persons affiliated with the UT-System against travel-related risks and as well as policies that protect persons against liability risks. The text below reports information regarding each policy; its insurance type; what the insurance policy covers; the corporation offering the insurance; the policy contact person or address; the UT unit managing the policy; insurance website; required steps for a person to qualify for coverage; steps to document a covered incident; the person who can submit such an incident report; any restrictions in coverage; and other matters of interest to UT faculty. This report is not comprehensive and does not mention many insurance details that can be found in the actual policy documents, as those elements are beyond the scope of the intent of this report. Table 2 lists policies for which information is available. Table 3 lists policies for which information is not yet available. This section also lists third-party supplemental international travel insurance options available to faculty, staff, and their families.

This information may be useful for any UT faculty or staff member who either plans to send UT students and/or accompany them outside of Austin for university-related purposes. This information has not been approved by UT or the UT System and does not represent advice on insurance or the law. The information is not comprehensive and does not include all elements of any of the insurance policies referred to in the text. One reason why this information in complete is that the drafting Committee does not have a copy of four of the insurance policies.

Two key insurance policies protect faculty, staff and students, both offered by Blue Cross – Blue Shield (BC-BS). The faculty/staff insurance policies are provided as a fringe benefit of UT faculty/staff employment. Student policies, called ‘Academia Blue’, are available when enrolled students purchase a BC-BS student health insurance plan. These policies are discussed below.

Student Health Insurance- ‘Academia Blue’
The primary health policy available to protect students while traveling overseas is the Academic Blue policy of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas: “One of the risks in any student travel abroad is that an accident or incident could occur to a student resulting in injury, illness, death or other negative consequences.
Academic Blue (AB) is a non-renewable one-year term policy that is a requirement for all international students who cannot provide a comparable health insurance policy. AB also is available for any other enrolled and fee-paying student and their dependents at a UT System campus. Table 4 below lists the schedule of benefits. Service for out-of-network benefits, which would be germane for any student program abroad, are part of “60 percent of the allowable limits” benefits listed in Table 4. Table 4 provides only a summary of benefits. Details are available in the Academic Blue brochure available by calling 855-247-7587 for enrollment and liability questions on 853-267-0214 for benefit and claims questions. The website is utsystem.myahpcare.com.

Faculty/Staff Health Insurance- UT Select

The primary health policy that can protect faculty/staff and their families while traveling overseas is the UT Select health budget program offered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas (UT Select). UT Select is a renewable one-year term policy that is one health insurance benefit option for UT System employees. UT Select is available to any employee of the UT System employed at 50 percent (20 hours per week) or more. Information can be obtained from 1-866-822-2034 or from the program website at www.bcbstx.com/ut. Table 5 below lists the schedule of student benefits which would be germane for any travel abroad.

Supplemental Health Insurance Options

Faculty, staff and their families’ primary insurance policy often will be the Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance coverage obtained as UT employees. The international SOS coverage international coverage for health risks. If faculty, staff or their families are interested, there exist other independent, third-party supplemental travel insurances. Faculty or staff interested in supplemental travel insurance can review coverage options from four providers listed below:

- CareMed
  CareMed offers insurance to individuals and accompanying dependents with monthly premiums. For a price quote and enrollment web page, go to https://www.work-and-travel-insurance.com/get-a-quote/.

- Cultural Insurance Services International (CISI)
CISI offers insurance to individuals traveling with academic programs with monthly premiums starting at $34/month. For a price quote and enrollment web page, go to http://www.culturalinsurance.com/students.

- Academic Health Plans (AHP) Patriot Program Travel Medical Insurance
  AHP Patriot under International Medical Group (IMG) offers insurance to individuals and families for periods of 5 days to 2 years. For quote estimates and information about enrollment, go to https://purchase.imglobal.com/Quote/patriot/pre-quote?imgac=119488.

- International Teacher Identity Card (ITIC)
The ITIC is administered internationally by the International Student Travel Card and is accepted as proof of teacher status in more than 100 countries around the world. ITIC offers relatively low-cost-health insurance to faculty members on an annual basis. For a price quote and program summary, go to https://buy.sevencorners.com/policygroup/HW7C69M/HGPCCP8/.

Automobile and Other Risks: Lloyd’s, London
The UT-System has purchased an excess automobile risk policy from Brit Global Specialty USA, 161 North Clark Street, Suite 3200, Chicago, IL 60601, underwritten by Lloyd’s, London, Brit Syndicates, Ltd., 55 Bishopsgate, London EC2N 3AS, telephone +44-20-7984-8500, fax: +44-20-7984-8501, email: BGS.Complaints@britinsurance.com. This policy provides supplemental (excess) self-insurance coverage for non-owned automobile risks. Table 6 lists the coverage. In the event of a claim; the office contacts are not known. The UT-System describes the coverage of this policy as follows:

“The Foreign Business Auto liability provides coverage for third party liability for incidents occurring outside of the United States arising from the use of owned private passenger or hired vehicle. Physical damage applies to owned autos and hired autos.”

Flood and surface water $25,000 each occurrence
Earthquake $25,000 each occurrence
Named windstorm $25,000 each occurrence

Notes: This report interprets the term ‘excess insurance’ to represent a type of umbrella policy that would be called upon in the event of an occurrence where actual losses exceeded the liability limits available from other sources of insurance. Such coverage could refer to university-owned vehicle or properties only, as well as vehicles rented for university-authorized purposes. This insurance apparently provides no excess coverage for any personal vehicle used by a person affiliated with UT, even for university-authorized purposes. A person apparently is covered by this policy if they drive an UT-owned vehicle or rent a vehicle under UT authorization.

Aviation Risk: Starr Companies
The UT-System has purchased an aviation risk policy from Federal Insurance Co. of 15 Mountain View Road, Warren, NJ 07059, underwritten by Starr Aviation, 3353 Peachtree Road, N.E., Suite 1000, Atlanta, GA, 30316, telephone: 404-946-1400; fax: 404-946-1497, which is associated with the Chubb Group of Insurance. This policy provides insurance coverage for non-owned aircraft risks. Table 3 lists the coverage. In the event of a claim, the contacts are: Jeffrey Greenawalt, 214-223-0202 or Jacy Watt, 404-946-1414 and details would be reported via the website aviationclaimreport@starrcompanies.com. Notes: A person apparently is covered by this policy if she/he flies on a plane not owned by UT under UT authorization or fly in a rented plane under UT authorization.
Travel Risks: AIG Property Casualty, Inc. (Travel Guard)
The UT-System has purchased a travel risk insurance policy from Marsh USA, Inc., 1717 Main Street, 4400 Comerica Bank Tower, Dallas, TX 75201-7357, underwritten by AIG. Travel Guard can be reached at +1-817-826-7008 or 1-800-401-2678. There is a 24-hour hotline for WorldSource Crisis Response at 1-877-743-7669 or 1-713-260-5500. In the event of an incident, the first call should be to the agent (see Marsh USA above) or to the AIG WorldSource Division Claims office at via fax: 1-212-881-9002 via email at WorldRiskClaimsReporting@aig.com. The UT System description of this coverage includes:

“Foreign commercial general liability pays those sums that U.T. System or its Institutions becomes legally obligated to pay as damages because of bodily injury or property damage. Coverage includes a customized (U.T. specific) general liability endorsement providing coverage for students employed or representing U.T., as well as coverage for participants in any sport or athletic event (coverage in excess of the NCAA Catastrophic Injury Assistant Program).”

This policy covers all U.S.-based employees for bodily injury and property damage liability caused by an occurrence that occurs in a covered territory, providing both payment for damages and legal representation in nations where AIG can defend, and reimbursement for defense in other nations. A ‘covered territory’ includes nations where the Defense Base Act is applicable. There are many exclusions. Covered persons include executive officers, employees, volunteer workers and student teachers for “acts within the scope of employment...while performing duties related to the conduct of business.” Travel Guard covers owned private passenger autos owned by UT, hired autos and non-owned autos. The policy covers liability for bodily injury or property damage to an employee. One endorsement extends coverage for bodily injury or property damage from acts or omissions in the performance of operations or on owned premises. An endorsement extends coverage to employed students and students representing UT. Another endorsement provides secondary bodily injury insurance for any person involved in sports covered under an NCAA insurance policy. An endorsement extends coverage to non-owned charter aircraft and watercraft, with some restrictions. Coverage includes persons insured under the Defense Base Act, any local hire or third country national hire. Coverage limits are listed in Table 8.

A number of endorsements relate to study abroad programs. An endorsement precludes coverage for bodily injury or property damage arising out of transport of students and exempts payments to students for bodily injury from transport. The policy has an endorsement to provide crisis response coverage, with a separate hotline of 1-877-743-7669. A crisis can include either a natural disaster or a man-made event, other than war. Another endorsement provides for reimbursement of deposit fees and tuition for study abroad in the event of a disaster. An endorsement appears to include terrorism as a covered risk. An endorsement appears to provide coverage for educational services professional liability claims for professionals and student interns. To be covered, a wrongful act must take place in a ‘coverage territory,’ be part of a professional program (which would include study, research or a service internship abroad), and does not apply to a dishonest, fraudulent criminal or malicious act.
Two key endorsements (#18 and #19) extend liability coverage (but not bodily injury) for educators as covered insured. The persons covered include Board members, faculty members, teaching assistants, student teachers, volunteer workers, former employees, members of associations or clubs for social or recreational purposes connected to the institution, and any persons who participate in the employment benefits program. A key clause is that covered duties must be “...with your knowledge and consent” and duties are “duties” as faculty members, teaching, assistants, etc., which also implies for “acts within the scope of ...employment...while performing duties related to the conduct of ...business.” Endorsement #21 extends liability coverage to “...bodily injury or property damage resulting from the use of reasonable force to protect persons and property.” Endorsement #30 provides for transportation costs for emergency security and political evacuation to the “nearest Place of Safety,” but excludes cost reimbursement for any persons who was “...an active participant in the events that led to the Occurrence...” AIG also provides assistance services as part of its coverage, including limited travel medical assistance and emergency travel assistance. Death and injury payments are part of the coverage (endorsement #34).

Student International Travel Accident and Sickness Insurance: ACE
The UT-System provides “International SOS,” insurance coverage policy #GLM N04969340 for student international travel accident and sickness insurance, underwritten by ACE American Insurance Company, P.O. Box 5124, Scranton, PA 18505, fax: 1-302-476-7857, and via website; ACEAandHClaims@acegroup.com. There is a dedicated line for students, faculty and staff at 1-215-942-8478. This policy provides insurance for travel outside the U.S., and covers medical expenses, travel document replacement, trip delay, trip interruption, accidental death and dismemberment, injury or illness. There are many exclusions and limitations. Table 9 lists coverage. There are special claims forms that can be faxed to any of three numbers (1-800-336-0627 inside the U.S., 1-302-476-6194 outside of the U.S. and 1-302-476-7857 inside the U.S.). Claims can be emailed to ACEAandHClaims@acegroup.com.

International may SOS also provide coverage for faculty and staff, although the coverage details are not clear from the insurance policy itself. There is separate policy provided by UT Systems that appears to offer parallel insurance coverage for faculty and staff members.

SOS provides a diverse set of assistance services, including: medical expense guarantees; cost review; medical payment; medical monitoring; dispatch of medication and medical supplies; emergency room and routine medical advice; travel health information; medical and dental referrals; out-patient case management; assistance with documentation of insurance claims; legal referrals; emergency message transmission; emergency translation and interpreter services; lost document advice and assistance; coordination of transportation and accommodation for accompanying family members; and advance of emergency cash.

SOS provides security services that include: travel security information; an international SOS crisis center; referrals to other security services; and security evacuation assistance. SOS provides subscribers with access to international SOS clinics in undefined locations. SOS also assist subscribing faculty, staff and their families with payments for uncovered costs and for uncovered family members, once approved through UT, with a requirement for reimbursement by the families. From the policy itself, it is not clear whether this insurance provides coverage to their faculty, staff and family members who purchase SOS coverage for international travel; perhaps UT System staff can clarify coverage.

Automobiles in Mexico: AIG Mexico

The UT-System has purchased an auto insurance policy for travel in Mexico through AIG Mexico, Insurgentes Sur 1136, Vol. del Valle, 03219 Mexico, D. F., Mexico, telephone 52-1-55-54-88-47-00 and fax 52-1-55-44-88-47-70. Apparently the insurance covers loss or damage sustained by an insured vehicle as a consequence of a collision with other vehicles or animals, vandalism, or natural disasters. The copy of the policy which of the C-6 Committee received from the UT System is not legible, so it is not possible to describe what is covered or not covered. The UT-System describes the coverage of this policy as follows:

“Local Mexico Tourist Auto Policy – ORM has purchased a separate Mexico Tourist Auto policy. Avis, Enterprise Rent-a-Car, and Hertz have each agreed to allow U.T. to use the Mexico Tourist Policy as primary when operating rental vehicles in Mexico.”
Travel in Canada: The Insurance Company of Pennsylvania
The UT-System apparently has purchased a policy, called the WorldRisk Foreign Commercial Package Policy, that provides insurance for travel to Canada and covers both bodily injury and property damage for occurrences in Canada, when suits are brought either in Texas or Canada. The insurance has been purchased from The Insurance Company of the State of Pennsylvania, 175 Water Street, 18th floor, New York, NY 10038, telephone 212-770-7000. The UT System did not supply a copy of this policy and therefore the C-6 Committee cannot describe what is covered or not covered.

WorldRisk Foreign Commercial Package is a commercial insurance product under AIG. Employees of eligible WorldRisk Foreign Commercial Package insureds receive access to medical and travel assistance of AIG Travel if faced with a medical emergency, security issue, or unexpected travel problem, and access to global assistance centers and air ambulance providers worldwide. More information on WorldRisk Foreign Commercial Package can be found at http://www.aig.com/business/insurance/casualty/multinational-casualty/worldrisk-foreign-commercial-package. Clients can choose from nine different coverages to make the package. These coverages include foreign commercial general liability, foreign automobile liability, travel accident and sickness, commercial property, kidnap and ransom, marine ocean cargo, commercial crime, and political risk.

Defense Base Workers Compensation: The Insurance Company of Pennsylvania
The UT-System has purchased a Defense Base Act Workers Compensation Insurance Policy from The Insurance Company of the State of Pennsylvania, 175 Water Street, 18th floor, New York, NY 10038, telephone 212-770-7000. The insurance agent is Rutherford International, Inc., 5500 Cherokee Avenue, Suite 300, Alexandria, VA 22312-2321, with a contact listed as John W. Burke, telephone 1-713-342-7532 and fax 1-713-831-5368. This policy applies to bodily injury caused by accidents or disease suffered by employees on a defense department base. As this insurance policy may not be germane to the circumstance of faculty leading student groups abroad or sending student abroad, no further information is needed as to covered risks. Indeed, it is not clear whether the policy does cover employees not employed at defense bases.

Foreign Workers Compensation: unknown vendor
The UT-System apparently has purchased a policy, called the WorldRisk Foreign Commercial Package Policy, that provides insurance for travel to Canada and covers both bodily injury and property damage for occurrences in Canada, when suits are brought either in Texas or Canada. The insurance has been purchased from The Insurance Company of the State of Pennsylvania, 175 Water Street, 18th floor, New York, NY 10038, telephone 212-770-7000. The C-6 Committee does not have a copy of this policy and therefore cannot describe what is covered or not covered. Table 11 lists limits of coverage according to a UT-System note dated September 22, 2016. As the UT System did not furnish a copy of this policy to the C-6 Committee, the insurance document is not available, so the meaning of the benefits are not clear, and it is not known and how they apply to study abroad circumstances.

Blue Cross/Blue Shield International Medical Insurance Coverage

The C-6 Committee does not have a copy of the UT-System employee policy that lists Blue Cross/Blue Shield international medical service coverage. Apparently that information can be obtained by calling 1-866-882-2014.

The UT SELECT Medical plan through Blue Cross and Blue Shield (BCBS) provides international medical coverage for a broad range of medical assistance services, and connections to a large number of hospitals on almost every continent. When UT employees travel abroad, they must carry their UT SELECT Medical Identification Card which has the telephone number to the BlueCard Worldwide program and contains important information about their plan. BlueCard Worldwide provides the provider location, referral information, medical monitoring, wire transfers/overseas mailing, translation, coverage confirmation, and currency conversion. The BlueCard Access toll free numbers at 1-800-810-BLUE (2583) or call collect at (804) 673-1177 can be reached 24 hours a day, seven days a week to locate a participating physician or hospital. In some instance, participating physicians or hospitals will submit a claim on the UT employees’ behalf.

Table 12 below shows the BCBS UT SELECT Benefit Summary chart for the In-Area Plan. The In-Area Plan and its benefits apply to any eligible employees, retirees, and their dependents whose record is in Texas, New Mexico, or Washington, D.C. Table 12 below also lists coverage in the BCBS Out-Of-Area Plan. The Out-Of-Area Plan and its benefits apply to any eligible employees, retirees, and their dependents whose residence of record is outside of Texas, New Mexico, or Washington, D.C. The prescription drug plan benefits are the same for both plans. Faculty and staff should review the BCBS plan before buying additional insurance or departure, research what medical providers in their host city are considered “in-network” providers, be prepared to pay out of pocket for minor medical needs and submit a claim as early as possible.

Auto Rental Contracts

The UT-System has apparently developed standard liability coverage insurance policies with each of the System approved auto rental companies, including (a) Avis/Budget; (b) Hertz; (c) Enterprise/National; and (d) Anthony Travel Motor Coach. There apparently are many alternative costs and coverages, depending on the location of the rental. The C-6 Committee does not have a copy of the policies from those rental companies, so it is not possible to report on the standard insurance coverages per the corporate contract. The UT-Austin website https://travel.utexas.edu/rentalcar/, has general guidance for insurance coverage.

“Contracted vendors include collision damage waiver and liability damage waiver (CDW/LDW) insurance in most of their rental rates, so you usually won’t have to worry about getting insurance when you use a contracted vendor.

It is not clear how to obtain details of insurance coverage. Table 13 lists the auto rental firms and their contact numbers.

Avis and Budget provide rentals at daily rates ranging from $30.00 to $76.00 depending on the type and size of the car. Daily rates outside of Texas are an additional $2.00 per day, with the exception of Budget H-Luxury rates being an additional $10.00 per day. Additional daily charges apply to certain locations in the U.S. Loss Damage Waiver (LDW) is included in all business rentals and liability insurance coverages are included in all rentals. Avis is located close to the UT System Offices at 1104 I-35. The contact for the office is Kamilah Powell, Location Manager, telephone 512-480-8333.

The partnership between UT Austin and Hertz provides daily business travel rates ranging from $32.00 to $84.00 depending on the car class. There is no drop fee for one-way rentals if rented and returned within Texas, and city surcharges may apply for locations outside of Texas.) LDW and Liability Protection Override insurances are covered in the UT rates for rentals in the U.S. including Alaska and Hawaii. Blanket Accident and Sickness: ACE American Insurance Company

The UT System has purchased a blanket accident and sickness policy from ACE American Insurance Company of Philadelphia, PA. ACE does not list a physical address, phone number, website or contact person. The policy identifies as eligible persons all students, faculty and staff engaged in educational activities sponsored by UT. The covered activities include educational travel with limited coverage for “personal deviation” and there are differences in coverage for education travel (class 1) and business travel (class 2). It is not clear whether this policy is a separate insurance policy from the International SOS policy listed as #4; the policy’s language differs, although it is with the same company. Table 14 lists benefits, which are similar to benefits covered by SOS. Each of the benefits are described in detail in the policy.

FACULTY LIABILITY FOR EVENTS BEYOND THEIR CONTROL

One of the risks in any student travel abroad is that an accident or incident could occur to a student resulting in injury, illness, death or other negative consequences. One of the risks to faculty or staff leading student travel abroad is that the student or his/her family could believe that the incident/accident in question could have been prevented or ended differently had the supervising faculty/staff behaved differently. In such circumstances the party experiencing the loss could sue UT, the UT System and/or the supervising faculty staff. This risk of third party legal suit is the basis for a concern over “liability” of supervisory faculty/staff for student travel abroad.

Some behavior maybe more likely to lead to a legal suit than other behavior. For example, a faculty or staff member could be held liable for accidents or events based on the faculty member’s leading or engaging in activities that are prohibited specifically by the UT System. Such activity includes: providing or drinking alcohol with student participants; bringing or taking students on their own personal trips before, during, or after the program has started/ended; engaging in a physical or intimate relationship with a student participant; willful or wrongful acts; acts of gross negligence; or criminal acts. Other behavior is less likely to lead to a legal suit. For example, the UT office legal Affairs (OLA) interprets Section 1.4.00 of Texas Council Practice of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code that liability is less likely for acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of duty, not but negligent acts. OLA indicates that willful or wrongful acts, acts of gross negligence or criminal acts are not covered by the statute.

This section discusses potential liability for events beyond the faculty/staff’s span of control. There are six levels of liability protection discussed below: (a) liability protection based on The University of Texas System as the ‘sovereign’; (b) liability due to behavior falling with the scope of duty; (c) liability protection due to faculty/staff employment; (d) liability protection through UT System-purchased institutional insurance products; (e) supplemental liability protection due to faculty/staff purchased third-party, individual liability insurance policy; and (f) umbrella liability insurance based on an individual’s home and/or auto insurance policy.

Sovereign Immunity

The UT Office of Legal Affairs (OLA) states in its briefings to UT faculty and staff at Health and Safety Workshops that Texas’ state government is the ‘sovereign,’ the successor to the British monarch, OLA suggests that there exists a legal precedent that an individual citizen or business cannot sue the sovereign without the agreement by the sovereign to be sued, a situation called a ‘sovereign immunity bar to liability suits.’ As UT is not likely to accept to be sued for liability for any accident occurring on one of its international programs, OLA argues that it is unlikely that a faculty member will be sued by any individual or business because of the sovereign immunity bar. There are four ambiguities with this position.

Ambiguity #1: Is the Sovereign Really Immune? It is unclear whether in practice UT-Austin as a sovereign is immune to suits. It is the understanding of the C-6 Committee that a number of suits have been brought successfully against UT and that the courts have allowed some of those suits to reach court for trial. It would be useful to know under what conditions immunity is likely and under what conditions sovereign immunity can be challenged successfully. [Note: The final draft of the report ought to include information on suits that have passed the bar to sovereign immunity.]

Ambiguity #2: Is the Sovereign Immune Away From the Throne? It is unclear whether the sovereign immunity bar holds outside of Texas or outside the U.S. In the event of an accident or incident within an international program, suits could be brought in other U.S. states and certainly legal causes could be filed in other nations. This concern increases in other nations where offences that would be treated as civil cases in the U.S. could be brought in criminal court outside the U.S. One example would be, if a UT person is driving a rental car in Japan and hit by another driver who is at fault; under that scenario it is still possible that the UT driver could be brought into criminal court for being part of the accident. A second example would be if a UT international program director hires a person in a nation where employment actions can be criminal offences. If the local-hire employee does not conduct her/himself properly and if the UT representative fires the employee for cause, then there is a possibility that a criminal case could be brought in court against the faculty member for firing an employee. It would be useful to know under what conditions immunity holds outside of Texas. It would be helpful to know what options are open to UT employees if such incidents or accidents occur in a jurisdiction outside of Texas. [Note: The final draft of the report ought to include information on criminal court risks in other nations.]

Ambiguity #3: Can a Faculty Member Be Sued as an Individual for Liability? It is reasonable to believe that a person or business can sue an individual faculty or staff member for liability from an incident arising out of an international UT program where the suit is not against UT, the UT System, or the State of Texas, but against the individual faculty or staff member. Are there court cases where an individual has been sued in Texas as an individual, while performing activities within the ‘course and scope’ of employment at UT, without engaging the State of Texas’ sovereign immunity bar? [Note: The final draft of the report ought to include information as to whether any such suits have been brought against individual faculty, while not against UT or the UT-System.]

Ambiguity #4: Will a faculty Member Be Defended in Case of a Suit? UT faculty and staff cannot control whether they will be defended in court under the sovereign immunity doctrine. The decision to provide legal counsel rests in the hands of persons whose interests may differ from the faculty or staff member. For example, the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code Section 104.001 provides that: “The State will indemnify and defend State employees in certain causes of action occurring within the State employee’s course and scope of employment.” This means that the Attorney General of Texas is responsible for determining whether to represent a faculty member sued for liability. This statute covers acts or omissions occurring within the course of scope and duty, but it does not cover willful or wrongful acts, acts of gross negligence, or criminal acts. The faculty’s scope of employment includes the performance of a task lawfully assigned to an employee by a competent authority (Tex.Civ.Prac.&Rem.Code Section 101.001(5)). [Note: the final draft of the report ought to include information as to whether the Texas Attorney General as a matter of policy or practice has ever decided not to defend a faculty member sued for liability.

Third-Party Liability Insurance as a Protection to Leaders of International Programs
The UT Office of Legal Affairs (OLA) states in the briefing materials presented to UT faculty and staff leading programs abroad that faculty are protected from liability risks due to Tex. Civ. Prac. & Re. Code Section 1-4.001 which states that:

“The State will indemnify and defend State employees in certain causes of action occurring within the State employee’s course and scope of employment.”

OLA interprets that statement to mean that Section 1.4.00 covers acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of duty, not but negligent acts. OLA indicates that willful or wrongful acts, acts of gross negligence or criminal acts are not covered by the statute. The OLA provides further guidance to faculty and staff regarding their behavior:

“You must exercise reasonable care in the performance of your official duties”

“What does ‘reasonable care’ mean? There is no “bright line” test. You have to use your best judgment in determining what is appropriate conduct in a given situation (ask yourself: would I want my son or daughter to do this?). UT has several resources to defend UT employees who are sued while acting in the course and scope of their employment. To minimize risk when you are abroad, ask yourself how a reasonably prudent person would act in a similar situation.”

One way that the UT-System seeks to protect faculty members and staff is through the purchase of third-party liability insurance policies, such as those listed above in the insurance section of this report. One ambiguity of an UT-system purchased, third-party liability insurance is the meaning of “the course and scope of employment.” A second ambiguity is the nature of who is the decider: who decides when to defend a faculty member charged in a liability case.

Ambiguity #4: Course and Scope
The OLA in its faculty briefings makes reference to Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code Section 101.001(5), the so-called ‘Were you doing the job that you were hired and paid to so?’ clause:
“[T]he performance for a governmental unit of the duties of an employee’s office or employment and includes being in or about the performance of a task lawfully assigned to an employee by a competent authority.”

Neither the UT System nor UT Austin have ever been willing to put in writing that leading a student group overseas or authorizing travel overseas constitutes action within “course of scope of employment” that such work represents “a task lawfully assigned by a competent authority.” Indeed, when questioned UT and UT-System staff indicated just the reverse: no one has ever assigned a faculty or staff member to lead or authorize a student program abroad; each person does so her or himself. It would be helpful if in the final report if UT ever put this ambiguity to rest stating that a faculty who leads or supervises student travel abroad does so as a part of University employment, as a faculty or staff member.

Ambiguity #5: Who Is the Decider?
It is not clear whether it will be up to the Texas Attorney General to determine whether to defend against a liability action even when the UT-System owns third-party liability insurance for a faculty liability suit. It also is not clear whether the decision to defend a faculty or staff member in case of a liability action would be the responsibilities of the UT System Chancellor, the UT System Vice Chancellor and General Counsel, the UT-Austin President, or someone else. It would be helpful in the final report if there could be some clarity in who would decide to defend or not.

Liability Protection as a Result of Employment
In 2017, the UT System implemented a policy that appears to offer to defend in court any employed faculty/staff member sued for liability. Despite this statement (see below), UT Austin and the UT System have not stated whether a faculty/staff member paid to lead a student program or supervise students abroad would fall within the category of “the performance of a task lawfully assigned to an employee by a competent authority.”

“Sec. 1 Policy Statement.
It is the policy of The University of Texas System to defend and indemnify employees of U.T. System Administration and U. T. institutions who become parties to legal proceedings in the course and scope of performing their employment responsibilities in good faith.

Sec. 2 Policy.
2.1 The Vice Chancellor and General Counsel of U. T. System is responsible for applying this policy.

2.2 Legal representation and indemnification under this policy is intended to conform to Chapters 104 and 108 of the Texas Civil Practices & Remedies Code, or as otherwise authorized, where appropriate, by the Vice Chancellor and General Counsel in consultation with the responsible officers of U. T. System and/or the relevant U. T. institutions. This policy does not preclude coverage of non-employees in certain appropriate circumstances.

2.3 Determinations about the application of this policy to an employee of a U. T. institution will be made by the Vice Chancellor and General Counsel in consultation with the President and chief legal officer of the institution, and the appropriate Executive Vice Chancellor. If the person is an employee of U.T. System Administration, these determinations will be made by the Vice Chancellor and General Counsel in consultation with the Chancellor or Deputy Chancellor.

2.4 If an employee and a U. T. System institution and/or U. T. System Administration are parties, the Vice Chancellor and General Counsel shall have the discretion to determine when a conflict of interest – or other good cause – exists such that separate representation of the employee may be provided.

2.5 When legal representation is provided for an employee under this policy, the U. T. institution and U. T. System Administration shall have authority over litigation and settlement strategies and decisions. The employee’s full and honest cooperation with legal counsel is a condition of continued defense and indemnification under this policy.

2.6 U.T. System may revoke its initial decision to defend and indemnify an employee if information is received that the employee was not acting in good faith in the course and scope of performing her/his job, failed to fully and honestly cooperate with legal counsel (Sec. 2.5, above), or violated or otherwise failed to satisfy a condition required by state law or policy. If that occurs, U. T. System Administration or the relevant institution may seek restitution from the employee for expenses, including attorney’s fees and costs, incurred before the revocation.

2.7 Employees may, at their own expense, retain separate legal representation rather than avail themselves of defense under this policy. If that occurs, U. T. System will not indemnify the employee for any settlement, judgment, or expense incurred.

2.8 This policy does not apply to an employee’s involvement in internal administrative proceedings at a U. T. institution or U. T. System Administration.

2.9 This policy does not apply to the involvement of certain medical professional employees in legal proceedings arising out of official duties performed within the scope of the medical professional role. Defense and indemnification in these proceedings is provided under procedures administered separately.

This statement appears to supersede the language and requirements of section 101.101 (5). It appears to provide certainty that a faculty or staff member sued for liability associated with facilitating or supervising student travel abroad will be defended in a liability court case, unless there should be extenuating circumstances precluding a defense, such as improper faculty actions.

When Would a Personal Professional Third-Party Liability Insurance Be Useful?

Many professional associations sell third party liability insurance that a faculty or staff member can purchase to provide her/himself with assurance of legal counsel, regardless of any decision by a Texas Attorney General, a UT-System Chancellor, or a Vice Chancellor and General Counsel. Such policies are generally not expensive, because they only cover liability for activities that fall within the employee’s “normal” course and scope of employment. Neither the UT System nor UT Austin have ever opined on the issue as to when a faculty/staff member leads a program abroad or supervises students abroad that she/he is acting within a UT faculty member’s “normal” course and scope of employment. It would be useful for the UT System to confirm such an interpretation: leading a study abroad program or facilitating student travel abroad is an activity within the “normal course and scope of employment.” [Note: neither the UT System nor UT-Austin have ever stated directly such an interpretation. In the final draft of this report, such a statement would be helpful because then an employee could assure coverage through the private insurance provider she/he has engaged under the private liability policy.]There are two ambiguities associated with this approach: when the use of a private liability policy is unwise, and whether it represents a legitimate reimbursable cost of an international program.

Ambiguity #6: When an employee ought not to implement a private third-party liability policy

There are times when a faculty/staff member who owns a personal, third-party liability policy might not wish to implement it. Consider point 2.7 of the UT System policy listed above:

“2.7 Employees may, at their own expense, retain separate legal representation rather than avail themselves of defense under this policy. If that occurs, U. T. System will not indemnify the employee for any settlement, judgment, or expense incurred.”

If an employee were to use her/his own professional liability policy, that policy could preclude coverage by UT’s liability policy.

Ambiguity 7: Is a third-party liability policy appropriate for reimbursement leading an international program or facilitating student travel abroad expense of an international program?

It is not clear whether such a third-party professional liability policy could be an appropriate and reasonable cost that could be reimbursed by program receipts for an international UT program sending or leading student abroad.

Liability Protection From a Personal Umbrella Policy

Many owners of home or auto policies have a liability clause and there exist many so-called “umbrella” policies that provide liability protection to provide a legal defense of the policy holder in the event of a liability suit. It is not clear whether such a private umbrella policy can be used by a faculty or staff member to provide a defense in the event of a liability suit associated with leading an international program or facilitating student travel abroad.

Student Restricted Regions Travel Request – Category 1, 2, 3

The International Oversight Committee (IOC) may grant exceptions to this rule on a case-by-case basis. Requesting an exception and submitting the appropriate documentation for IOC's review does not guarantee travel approval. The IOC strongly recommends that no travel arrangements be made until the UT Austin student has received the IOC's final written approval to travel to the designated Restricted Region.

1. List physical addresses for your accommodations and where you will be based. Be specific enough for an accurate search on Google Maps.
2. List proposed airlines and flight #'s. (The IOC recommends you do not book travel prior to approval, however please list potential flight information.)
3. Describe how you will travel within the region, and day-to-day movement.

5. Proposal to the International Oversight Committee

Attach a written proposal summarizing the rationale for operating the proposed program at the specific site chosen. This proposal may be written in essay or outline form, preferably 3-5 single-spaced pages, and should be organized according to the structure below.

OVERVIEW OF PROGRAM

A. Program Description & Location

Provide a brief description of the program. Clearly address whether this is intended to be a one-time offering or a recurring opportunity, and indicate if academic credit will be awarded. In addition, describe where the program will be based, including details regarding the local site, neighborhood, region, and any other useful details. Describe how program participants will access the program site on a daily basis.

✓ Attach relevant maps, if possible.

B. Participant Profile & Projected Enrollment

Provide a profile of the expected program participants (e.g., age, student major, academic motivation, language ability, etc.), and the projected enrollment. Describe the faculty/staff accompanying the program. Clearly indicate if travelers are UT or non-UT affiliated.

C. Program Itinerary & Activities

Provide itinerary details, including expected start and end dates, physical addresses/lodging information/transportation plans for all travel destinations, as well as transportation details for day-to-day movement. In addition, describe the educational activities to be undertaken at the location, including any field trips or excursions to other locations outside the main city of study (that are part of the academic program).

D. Arrival/Departure Transportation Logistics

Describe how participants will travel to and from the program. Specify who will make the travel arrangements, flight details, organizers accompanying participants (if applicable), planned ground transportation, etc. Include any other details to highlight how risk will be mitigated during arrival/departure travel.

E. Housing/Program Facilities

Describe where participants will be lodged and the location of these accommodations with respect to the program site. Include specific housing details, if possible. If using homestays, provide details on the individual/organization responsible for vetting the homestays and placing students. In addition, provide a brief description of the program facilities that will be used, such as classrooms, lecture halls, etc.

F. Security for Housing/Program Facilities

Include a detailed description of security measures with regard to the above-mentioned housing and program facilities. Consider items such as 24/7 surveillance, security guards, gated access, IU checks or bag screening, emergency shelters (if relevant), etc.

G. Medical/Emergency Facilities

In the event of a medical emergency (on-site, off-site, or during field trips/excursions), how accessible is an adequate hospital, clinic, or medical professional? Please describe.

H. Academic Rationale

Explain the compelling academic rationale for this program location (as opposed to a location with less apparent risk). Address any alternative opportunities available and why they were not chosen.

SAFETY & SECURITY

I. On-Site Institutional Support

Describe the on-site organizational or institutional support that would mitigate the concerns identified by International SOS and in the U.S. Department of State Travel Warnings (see Section 6 A of this form). Include relevant information about local support staff and any related training or experience for managing health, safety, or security issues.

J. Program Risk Mitigation Strategy

Describe the policies and measures the program will take for mitigating the specific security risks identified by International SOS and the U.S. Department of State. Examples of such measures might include avoiding travel to certain neighborhoods in a city or regions within a country, using only specific means of transportation, not travelling alone after dark, etc. Contact International SOS and speak with a security expert for the country or region where the program will take place (see Section 6 A for instructions). Include the International SOS Case if and Travel Security Brief.

K. Emergency Response Plan

Describe the protocols the program has in place for handling an emergency or crisis. If the program is working with an established sponsoring agency or partner (such as an NGO, third-party provider, or host institution) the applicant should obtain a copy of its risk management procedures, including an emergency response plan, and attach to this request. If the organization cannot adequately respond to such information requests, the IOC recommends that the sponsoring academic unit work with the organization to develop such plans or find another provider.

✓ Attach risk management procedures, including program’s emergency response plan or that of partnering organization/institution (if applicable).

7. UT Risk Notification Statement

The University of Texas at Austin must review international travel to destinations on the UT Restricted Regions List, as determined by the International Oversight Committee. Travel to any location on the UT Restricted Regions List involves certain degrees of risk.

It is important that travelers UNDERSTAND & CAREFULLY CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING RISKS:
• The US Embassy nearest your destination may temporarily cease or suspend public services for security reasons.
• The US Embassy nearest your destination may not be able to provide emergency assistance should you require it.
• If there is a need to evacuate in an emergency, flights may be suspended and other departure or shelter options in place may be limited or non-existent.
• Access to hospitals, emergency medical care and medications may be limited or non-existent.
• Should you experience difficulties, the University of Texas at Austin and their contracted emergency assistance provider, International SOS, may not be in a position to provide emergency assistance to you.
• Participation in travel to a UT Restricted Region has inherent risks which may include kidnapping or death. These risks can never be completely eliminated.
• Risks of travel to your destination may include (but are not limited to) dangers to health and personal safety, including possible death posed by natural disaster, disease, terrorism, crime, civil unrest, and/or violence.
• Additional risks include (but are not limited to) minor and major physical injuries, emotional and psychological injuries inflicted accidentally or intentionally by others, and/or catastrophic injuries, including paralysis and death.
• There may be other additional health, safety, and security factors that have not been brought to your attention by the University of Texas at Austin.

IT IS HIGHLY RECOMMENDED THAT YOU VISIT & CAREFULLY REVIEW THE FOLLOWING WEBSITES:
• http://travel.utexas.edu/safety/InternationalTravelPolicy
• http://travel.utexas.edu/safety/TravelResources

• http://www.worldeutexas.edu/RS/UTInternationalTravel

8. UT Liability Disclaimer

If any UT travelers will be participating in the proposed program, then the following statement must appear on the official website promoting the program to potential travelers. This statement should also appear in safety handbooks or other health, safety, and security-related print materials.

No University of Texas at Austin student, faculty, or staff can be required to travel to a Restricted Region (http://www.utexas.edu/safety/RestrictedRegions). Any participation in travel to a Restricted Region is strictly voluntary, and the participant assumes full responsibility for all risks associated with this travel.

If any non-UT travelers will be participating in the proposed program, then the following statement must appear on the official website promoting the program to potential travelers. The statement should be posted in its entirety and positioned in an accessible and prominent location, so that non-UT travelers are aware of the disclaimer. This statement should also appear in safety handbooks or other health, safety, and security-related print materials.

As a condition of Participant’s involvement or participation in the program activities, the Participant will release, waive, discharge, and agree to hold harmless the University of Texas at Austin from all liability arising out of or in connection with Participant’s involvement with and/or participation in the program activities at <INSERT ACTIVITY/PROGRAM NAME>. Participants of all <INSERT ACTIVITY/PROGRAM NAME>s programs must acknowledge that the country/countries in which the <INSERT ACTIVITY/PROGRAM NAME> program activities may take place in whole or in part, or any other country through which the Participant may travel when involved with and/or participating in the program activities, or while in route to or from the program activities, may have health and safety standards substantially below those enjoyed in the United States. Participant must further acknowledge the inherent hazardous and dangerous nature of the program activities as well as the above referenced risks of participating in the program activities or in traveling to, through, or from the country/countries in which the program activities will take place, and must agree to assume all risk of illness, injury, or death from Participant’s travel to and from the program activities and participation therein.

If both UT and non-UT travelers will be participating in the program, then both statements must appear as directed above.

9. UT Release & Indemnification Agreements

If this program is approved by the International Oversight Committee, all UT and non-UT participants must complete a signed Release & Indemnification Agreement. These signed agreements should be collected and retained by the UT sponsoring academic unit responsible for the program. If students will be utilizing the "My SAO Portal," these agreements will be collected and retained by Study Abroad. To access the forms, click here.

If an agreement exists between UT and a 3rd party, a term of that contract should require the 3rd party to collect and send the signed Release & Indemnification Agreements of all participants to the UT sponsoring academic unit responsible for the program. For guidance on drafting this 3rd party agreement language, please contact seanbrideqam@utexas.edu.

AKNOWLEDGMENT OF IOC PROCEDURES

P. IOC Right to Withdraw Approval
Acknowledge in writing that the sponsoring academic unit understands and accepts the following statement:

In the event of approval, the University retains the right to withdraw approval and/or require return to the U.S. This may occur if there is a change in the proposed itinerary, the critical nature of the trip, or the health/safety/security climate of the region of interest.

5. PRE-DEPARTURE SAFETY AWARENESS

As explained in Section 4-K, any program taking place in a Restricted Region classified as Category 4 must include the following safety awareness elements in their pre-departure orientations for all UT Austin participants. If appropriate, programs may choose to conduct a separate risk training to address these items. Clearly demonstrate how each of these required elements will be addressed in pre-departure orientations. If only non-UT travelers will participate in the program, a pre-departure safety orientation is not required.

✓ Attach printouts, files, and/or links to all relevant handouts, websites, safety handbooks, etc., including the destination-specific International SOS online travel advice used for pre-departure orientations.

REQUIRED ELEMENTS

A. International SOS Online Travel Advice
Include International SOS online travel advice for the country where the program will take place. To obtain this information, follow the steps below:

- To access the online content, go to http://www.internationalsos.com and enter the UT Member Login: 118SGC000037. Use the drop-down menu on the left to select the appropriate country. There are several tabs with country-specific information: Overview, Security, Medical, Travel, and City.
- International SOS online travel advice should be included in pre-departure orientations and should also guide the program organizer or leader when developing a risk mitigation strategy, as well as safety and security protocols.

No University of Texas at Austin student, faculty, or staff can be required to travel to a Restricted Region (http://world.utexas.edu/risk/restrictedregions). Any participation in travel to a Restricted Region is strictly voluntary, and the participant assumes full responsibility for all risks associated with this travel.

If any non-UT travelers will be participating in the proposed program, then the following statement must appear on the official website promoting the program to potential travelers. The statement should be posted in its entirety and positioned in an accessible and prominent location, so that non-UT travelers are aware of the disclaimer. This statement should also appear in safety handbooks or other health, safety, and security-related print materials.

As a condition of Participant's involvement with or participation in the program activities, the Participant will release, waive, discharge, and agree to hold harmless the University of Texas at Austin from all liability arising out of or in connection with Participant's involvement with or participation in the program activities at <INSERT ACTIVITY/PROGRAM NAME>. Participants of all <INSERT ACTIVITY/PROGRAM NAME> programs must acknowledge that the country/countries in which the <INSERT ACTIVITY/PROGRAM NAME> program activities may take place in whole or in part, or any other country through which the Participant may travel when involved with or for participation in the program activities, or while in route to or from the program activities, may have health and safety standards substantially below those enjoyed in the United States. If both UT and non-UT travelers will be participating in the program, then both statements must appear as directed above.

8. UT Release & Indemnification Agreements

If this program is approved by the International Oversight Committee, all UT and non-UT participants must complete a signed Release & Indemnification Agreement. These signed agreements should be collected and retained by the UT sponsoring academic unit responsible for the program. If students are utilizing the "MySAO Portal," these agreements will be collected and retained by Study Abroad. To access the forms, click here or contact locd@austin.utexas.edu.

If an agreement exists between UT and a 3rd party, a term of that contract should require the 3rd party to collect and send the signed Release & Indemnification Agreements of all participants to the UT sponsoring academic unit responsible for the program. For guidance on drafting this 3rd party agreement language, please contact locd@austin.utexas.edu.

Revised: Oct 2015
The University of Texas at Austin permits faculty members to choose one of two options when resolving suspected issues of academic dishonesty:

(a) Direct referral of the alleged violation to Student Conduct and Academic Integrity in the Office of the Dean of Students for resolution, or

(b) Completion of a faculty disposition. This can occur in any case where the student does not dispute the facts, and both the faculty member and the student sign the form including sanctions and a written waiver of the hearing procedures.

Use the Faculty Referral/Disposition form for all suspected violations of academic integrity at The University of Texas at Austin. Faculty are advised to review all University policies concerning academic dishonesty at the following locations:

- The official University policies concerning academic dishonesty are outlined in Chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities, which may be found in Appendix C of the General Information catalog.
- Our Faculty Resources page provides detailed information on the discipline process, including flowcharts to explain students' rights.

GENERAL OVERVIEW AND INSTRUCTIONS

The student should be permitted to complete all assignments, sit for tests, and attend classes until the matter has been fully resolved. If the matter is unresolved when final course grades are due, you should record an "Incomplete" (symbol of "X") for the accused student's grade.

If more than one student is suspected of a violation, please submit a separate form for each student.

RESOLUTION OPTION A -- FACULTY REFERRAL:

- Complete the form through Section 5 and submit it to our office. Please include all evidence and supporting documentation with your submission, including the course syllabus.

- We encourage you to inform the student(s) of your submitted referral, though you are not required to do so. Our staff will investigate the allegation, meet with the student, and assign sanctions as appropriate. You may recommend a sanction on the form, but our office retains the right to assess sanctions. After the case has been resolved, we will inform you of the outcome.

- You may contact us at any time to inquire about the status of the case.

RESOLUTION OPTION B -- FACULTY DISPOSITION

- Meet with the student(s) involved and discuss the alleged violation in conjunction with any supporting evidence. Provide the student an opportunity to respond to the allegation and present evidence in his/ her/their defense.

- Review the form with the student. The student must be informed of his/her/their right for the matter to be referred to our office for resolution, the right to a hearing before either a University Hearing Officer or a Student Conduct Board, and the right to appeal your sanction to the University President. This information is covered in the form section titled "For the Student."

- The student must have the opportunity to discuss this situation with a conduct officer in our office and ample time to consider his/her/their options for resolving this matter. If the student asks a question about this process that you are unable to answer, please refer him/her/their to our office, 512-471-2841, or the Office of the Student Ombuds, 512-471-3825.

- If the student accepts your resolution, he/she/they will sign the form where indicated. Provide a signed copy to the student, and submit the signed form to our office along with all supporting documentation.

Study Abroad Misconduct Resolution Process

This document outlines the process and procedures governing the resolution of student misconduct occurring during study abroad programs officially associated with The University of Texas at Austin. While The University's student disciplinary process is contained in Chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities, the policies and procedures set forth in this document are necessary to resolve student misconduct occurring in foreign countries due to both the short duration of study abroad programs and the far-reaching implications of student behavior occurring outside the U.S.

Because study abroad is academic in nature, all aspects of the program and program participation fall under the authority of the Vice Provost for International Programs, with Study Abroad acting in these situations as his/her designee. While Study Abroad has authority to take immediate disciplinary action, as dictated by this document, for misconduct occurring during study abroad programs, cases of student misconduct may be referred to the Office of the Dean of Students for the imposition of additional sanctions as detailed in Chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules upon the student's return to the University.

The disciplinary process contained in this document will be initiated when a student is suspected of violating any of the following rules, laws, or policies:

- The University's expectations for conduct as dictated by Subchapter 11-800 of the Institutional Rules;
- A provision included in the Study Abroad Code of Conduct;
- Any rule, regulation, or expectation for conduct established by the Host Institution; and
- Any municipal, regional, or country law and/or statute applicable to the program's location.

For the purposes of this document, the terms "student" and "participant" include any individual enrolled at UT Austin in a study abroad program officially associated with The University.

Reporting Misconduct

Any individual or agency may report allegations of student misconduct. Upon receiving an allegation of student misconduct, the Faculty Director, Site Director, Exchange Coordinator, or Program Assistant (referred to as the "Program Representative") may initiate the disciplinary process as contained in this document.

Investigation and Misconduct Resolution Conference

Following receipt of an alleged misconduct violation, the Program Representative will investigate the situation. Typically, this investigation will involve the Program Representative meeting with the student to discuss the allegation in a disciplinary conference. During the disciplinary conference, the Program Representative should discuss the nature of the allegation, the regulations or policies allegedly violated, the disciplinary resolution process, and the student's response to the allegations. At her or his discretion, the Program Representative may also choose to speak with any witnesses deemed relevant or review any written materials related to the misconduct allegation. If, following the investigation and disciplinary conference, the Program Representative determines that the greater weight of credible evidence supports a finding that the student violated the regulation or policy at issue, he/she may impose any of the disciplinary actions listed below.

Disciplinary Actions

1 Approved 12/14
The Program Representative may take the following actions:

Verbal Warning: Program Representatives may issue a verbal warning if they observe or have determined that a student's behavior is not in accord with the rules, laws, or policies identified above. The Program Representative should have a frank discussion with the student regarding expectations and consequences. Upon determining that the student is in violation, the Program Representative may issue a verbal warning that includes the likelihood that more severe disciplinary action will be taken if further violations follow.

The Program Representative will send an e-mail summary of the verbal discussion to and copy the student on this correspondence; this e-mail should include the exact date and time that the verbal warning was issued. This serves as documentation and provides written clarification to the student.

Written warning: Upon determining that the student is in violation, the Program Representative may issue a written warning. While written warnings typically occur in situations where a student has engaged in misconduct following a verbal warning, they can be issued for first violations when deemed appropriate. Written warnings constitute notice that a student's behavior is unacceptable and that further violations will result in the student's dismissal from the program. If deemed necessary, the Program Representative may restrict the activities of the student if such activities are directly related to the violation at issue. Program Representatives are encouraged to work with in composing the written warning.

A written warning should include:

a) Date and time that written warning was communicated;
b) Location;
c) Detailed description of the undesired behavior, and why it was considered inappropriate;
d) Clearly stated expectations and consequences (including restricted activities, if applicable) that will remain in effect for the duration of the program; and
e) Indication that this is the final warning and any continuation of the undesirable behavior will result in immediate dismissal with possible financial penalties, including but not limited to loss of any program fees paid may be required to reimburse UT Austin for financial aid received.

Written Warnings, whenever possible, should be faxed or otherwise communicated to Study Abroad within 24 hours of the occurrence. Study Abroad may distribute the information to other campus units as appropriate.

Dismissal from the study abroad program: A participant may be dismissed from a study abroad program if he/she either fails to meet the conditions of a prior Written Warning or commits a violation warranting immediate dismissal. Behaviors which may lead to dismissal include, but are not limited to: academic misconduct, eviction from housing on grounds of inappropriate conduct, exceeding the number of unexcused absences from class allowed for the program, destruction of property, posing a safety hazard to oneself or others, and/or criminal conduct. If, after the investigation and disciplinary conference, the Program Representative believes that dismissal is appropriate, he/she will contact Study Abroad to discuss the situation and receive authorization to proceed. Study Abroad may conduct an independent investigation of the incident and may request additional information.
If a decision to dismiss the student from the program is made, the Program Representative will issue a Dismissal Notice to the student. The Dismissal Notice should state the study abroad conduct violation(s) and notify the student that he/she is no longer considered a participant in the program and must leave the contracted housing by a designated date and time. The Program Representative should have the student sign a statement indicating that he/she understands that he/she is no longer a participant in the study abroad program. If the student refuses to sign the statement, the Program Representative should have a witness sign a statement indicating that the student has been verbally informed of the dismissal but refuses to sign the statement.

Sample acknowledgement statement:

"I understand that due to my inappropriate behavior in violation of the Study Abroad Code of Conduct that I signed upon acceptance into the program, I am no longer eligible to participate in this program. I understand that effective immediately I am no longer a study abroad participant under the sponsorship of The University of Texas at Austin and that my insurance coverage will be terminated in three days."

Fax or scan and e-mail the completed Dismissal Notice to Study Abroad within 48 hours. Study Abroad will be responsible for informing any other appropriate campus offices or officials. Although dismissal from a study abroad program does not constitute dismissal from The University, The University may elect to impose additional sanctions pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules.

If a student from another institution is attending a UT Austin study abroad program and is subject to disciplinary action while in the program, the student’s home institution will also be notified.

Appeal: The accused student may appeal the misconduct resolution decision and/or sanction assessed by the Program Representative by submitting a written appeal to the Vice Provost for International Programs within 24 hours from the time the misconduct resolution was communicated. The written appeal must state the specific reasons for the appeal and must include any related argument, including relevant documents or witness statements. The Vice Provost for International Programs may approve, reject, or modify the misconduct resolution decision or sanction(s) in question. Before making a decision on the appeal, the Vice Provost for International Programs may, at his/her discretion, communicate with the Program Representative, the accused student, or any witnesses by phone. The action of the Vice Provost for International Programs should be communicated in writing to the accused student, Program Representative, and the Study Abroad Director within 24 hours of receiving the accused student’s written appeal — the Vice Provost may take additional time in making a decision on the appeal if justified by the circumstances. If the accused student’s appeal is received over a weekend or university holiday, the Vice Provost for International Program’s decision will be communicated by the close of business on the next full workday. The decision of the Vice Provost for International Programs will be final.

In circumstances where a student is appealing the Program Representative’s decision to dismiss the student from the student abroad program, the Program Representative may, at his/her discretion, ban the student’s presence from any premises directly affiliated with the student abroad program until such time as the appeal is resolved by the Vice Provost for International Programs. If the student is removed from housing affiliated with the study abroad program during the appeal period, the student will be required to find alternative housing at his/her personal expense.

Approved 12/14
Consequences of Dismissal

Upon issuance of a Dismissal Notice, the student's participation in the study abroad program shall be concluded immediately. Dismissal of a student from the program shall not diminish or otherwise affect the student's obligation to make any and all payments to UT Austin and/or the program provider. Dismissal from the program will result in grades of F being assigned to all coursework for a faculty led program participant and may result in an oblit of the official registration record (e.g. student's registration deleted for the applicable term) or withdrawal from the applicable term for an exchange or affiliated program participant.

In addition, the student will not be entitled to a refund of fees, may be required to reimburse UT Austin for financial aid received, and is responsible for all non-recoverable costs incurred by the host institution as well as personal financial obligations, e.g., utility bills, rent. A student's registration at UT Austin may be blocked pending fulfillment of all such financial obligations and/or disciplinary action. Once a student has been dismissed from the program, he/she shall be required to absent him/herself from all premises used by the program for the duration of the program and return to the United States at his or her own expense.
Study Abroad Program Safety & Security Assessment

If the proposed program will take place in multiple countries, an individual form must be completed for each country. NOTE: The Study Abroad Program Safety & Security Assessment form must be signed by the appropriate Dean prior to submission.

Study Abroad Safety & Security Assessment (SAPSSA)

I. Emergency Response Plan
Describe the protocols the program has in place for handling an emergency or crisis. If the program is working with an established sponsoring agency or partner (such as an NGO, third-party provider, or host institution) the applicant should obtain a copy of its risk management procedures, including an emergency response plan, and attach to this request. If the organization cannot adequately respond to such information requests, the IOC recommends that the sponsoring academic unit work with the organization to develop such plans or find another provider.

✓ Attach risk management procedures, including program's emergency response plan or that of partnering organization/institution (if applicable).

J. Pre-Departure Safety Awareness - Cultural Awareness
Differences of religion, cultural norms, local traditions, and political attitudes can present challenges that may affect a student's health and safety while studying abroad. During pre-departure and on-site orientations, how will students be informed to modify their behavior to address these cross-cultural differences? Describe in detail below.

K. Pre-Departure Safety Awareness - Health, Safety, and Security
Describe how pre-departure health, safety, and security information will be provided to program participants and what content will be included.

Required Elements of Information provided to participants:

a) International SOS Online Travel Advice
Include International SOS online travel advice for the country where the program will take place. To obtain this information, follow the steps below:

- To access online content, go to http://www.internationalsos.com and enter the UT Member Login: 118SGC000037. Use the drop-down menu on the left to select the appropriate country. There are several tabs with country-specific information: Overview, Security, Medical, Travel, and City.
- International SOS online travel advice should be included in pre-departure orientations and should also guide the program organizer or leader when developing a risk mitigation strategy, as well as safety and security protocols.
- In addition, the program leader should review the International SOS Pre-Travel Safety Checklist. This is not a required component of pre-departure orientations, but is encouraged as an additional safety preparedness tool.

b) How to Contact International SOS
Provide all UT participants with clear information about International SOS and how to access their services while abroad. The following information should be presented to participants pre-departure and incorporated into any safety awareness print materials:

The University of Texas System provides all students, faculty, and staff travelling internationally on UT-sponsored activities/programs with International SOS, an international emergency assistance service. This is not Insurance. Rather, it is a global 24-hour help line that can provide assistance in the event of a medical or security emergency. International Fire Safety Inspections for Hotel, Hostel, Dorm, Apartment or Other Residential

State Law requires an inspection of any location in which university students will be housed and that is part of a contractual agreement. The UT Office of Legal Affairs seeks to ensure that study abroad programs which have entered into contractual partnerships, specifically regarding housing or academic partnerships which include housing are in compliance. Programs must complete inspections starting in summer 2013. At this time, inspections only have to be conducted for locations in which students will reside for one month or more.

The inspection is due within 7 days of program completion. Please submit via email to studyabroadoffice@austin.utexas.edu.
