

- F. The Moody College is revising its foreign language requirement to give students an option to complete this requirement with a mix of language and culture courses (in addition to the already existing option for intermediate proficiency) in order to broaden the concept of foreign language study to better meet the needs of students in our communication fields of study.
- G. The courses list under Major Requirements has been updated to keep current with inventory.
- H. The paragraph under Special Requirements of the Major referring to a 2.25/2.0 GPA is no longer a policy in the Moody College and has been struck.

Text edits (Appears in the standard way; old policies/text are struck through; new policies/text are underlined)

- I. Made text edits in introductory paragraph to provide more clarity.
- J. Made text edits in Core Curriculum paragraph for clarity.
- K. Updated the paragraph regarding the Communication and Culture requirement for clarity and to more accurately reflect our current practices.
- L. The Areas of Study section has been deleted because it does not describe degree requirements and is superfluous. This content appears on the college's website.
- M. Order and Choice of Work has been updated for accuracy.
- N. In Order and Choice of Work, we have removed the rules stating that first-year students may not take two beginning foreign language courses in the same semester and they may not take more than eight semester hours in one department. These policies are obsolete.
- O. The text has been edited for typos, unclear wording, and inaccuracies.

PROPOSED NEW CATALOG TEXT:⁴

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN RADIO-TELEVISION-FILM

To be awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in Radio-Television-Film, the candidate must complete 120 semester hours of coursework and must fulfill the University's General Requirements for graduation, ~~and the Core Curriculum requirements, the college graduation requirements given in Special Requirements of the College, and the requirements and policies listed given in Academic Policies and Procedures, and the requirements given in Special Requirements of the Major, Prescribed Work, and Major Requirements below, and Special Requirements of the Major, below.~~

Core Curriculum

All students must complete the University's Core Curriculum, ~~as well as the requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Radio-Television-Film listed below under Prescribed Work.~~ In some cases, a course required for the BSRTF Bachelor of Science in Radio-Television-Film may also be counted toward the core curriculum; ~~these courses are identified below.~~

Prescribed Work

1. Three semester hours in English or rhetoric and writing in addition to the courses required by the core curriculum.
2. Three courses with a writing flag; one course with a quantitative reasoning flag; one course with a global cultures flag; one course with a cultural diversity in the United States flag; one course with an ethics and leadership flag; and one course with an independent inquiry flag. The same course cannot be used to satisfy the global cultures and cultural diversity flags even if the course carries both flags. Courses that fulfill flag requirements are identified in the Course Schedule. They may also be used to fulfill other degree requirements.
3. Three semester hours of coursework in the Moody College of Communication dealing with the study of communication issues concerning at least one minority or non-dominant group within the United States. Courses that fulfill this requirement may also be used to fulfill other degree and flag requirements. ~~A partial list of these communication and culture courses is given in the Communication and Culture Requirement section under the Moody College of Communication's Degrees and Programs section; a complete list is available in on the college's Student Advising Office website before registration for each semester and summer session. The courses are also identified in the Course Schedule.~~
4. ~~Students must demonstrate intermediate proficiency in a single foreign language.~~ Students must satisfy a foreign language and culture requirement in one of the following ways: (a) Demonstrating intermediate proficiency in a single foreign language; (b) Taking two consecutive courses in one language and one approved culture course in a culture that is relevant to the language. A list of approved culture and language courses and combinations will be posted on the Student Advising website before registration for each semester and summer session. Courses taken to meet this requirement may not be taken on a pass/fail basis. Credit may be earned by examination for any part of the foreign language requirement. An extensive foreign language testing program is available at the University. Students with knowledge of a language are encouraged to take appropriate tests both to earn as much credit as possible and to be placed at the proper level for further study. Students should consult with an academic adviser for information on testing.
5. At least six semester hours of coursework must be taken in the Moody College of Communication but outside the Department of Radio-Television-Film.
- ~~5. At least 36 semester hours of upper division coursework.~~
6. At least 36 but no more than 48 semester hours of radio-television-film as described in Major Requirements, below.
- ~~6. No more than 12 semester hours of transfer credit in journalism may be counted toward the degree.~~
7. Enough additional coursework to make a total of 120 semester hours. ~~No more than 48 hours in radio-television-film and no more than 36 semester hours in one field of study may be counted toward the degree, except as indicated under Major Requirements below.~~

Special Requirements of the Major

~~To enroll in upper division radio-television-film courses, a student must have a University grade point average of at least 2.25 and a grade point average in courses in the Moody College of Communication of at least 2.00. Students who do not fulfill this requirement will be dropped from upper division radio-television-film courses, normally before the twelfth class day. The grade point average requirement is waived for the transfer student during the first semester of coursework, while he or she is establishing a University grade point average.~~

~~In addition, a student with a major in radio-television-film must have a grade of at least C in each course taken in the Moody College of Communication that is counted toward the degree; if the course is offered on the pass/fail basis only, the student must have the symbol CR.~~

~~To enroll in some upper division radio-television-film courses, the student must earn specific grades in prerequisite courses. In addition, enrollment in a few some upper division courses requires the consent of the instructor. Course prerequisites and the departmental consent process are described in on the Department of Radio-Television-Film website.~~

~~It is not recommended that a student majoring in radio-television-film register for more than nine semester hours in radio-television-film in one long-session semester or more than six semester hours in a summer session.~~

Major Requirements

~~4. At least 36 but no more than 48 semester hours of radio-television-film, of which at least 21 hours must be upper-division. Special Requirements of the Major

To enroll in upper-division radio-television-film courses, a student must have a University grade point average of at least 2.25 and a grade point average in courses in the Moody College of Communication of at least 2.00. Students who do not fulfill this requirement will be dropped from upper-division radio-television-film courses, normally before the twelfth class day. The grade point average requirement is waived for the transfer student during the first semester of coursework, while he or she is establishing a University grade point average.

In addition, a student with a major in radio-television-film must have a grade of at least C in each course taken in the Moody College of Communication that is counted toward the degree; if the course is offered on the pass/fail basis only, the student must have the symbol CR.

To enroll in some upper-division radio-television-film courses, the student must earn specific grades in prerequisite courses. In addition, enrollment in a few some upper-division courses requires the consent of the instructor. Course prerequisites and the departmental consent process are described in on the Department of Radio-Television-Film website.

It is not recommended that a student majoring in radio-television-film register for more than nine semester hours in radio-television-film in one long-session semester or more than six semester hours in a summer session.

Areas of Study

The curriculum in radio-television-film is designed to prepare students to be versatile and well-equipped for positions in fields related to media. The program aims to train students to analyze the role of communication media in societies, to write and speak well, and to create media projects and programs. The curriculum is multidisciplinary and includes courses in the history and analysis of media systems, including film, television, and new media; global media; production and screenwriting; digital media; critical and cultural studies; ethnic, gender, and minority studies; and communication technologies and policies. Each student's program of study is planned by the student and an undergraduate adviser to meet the student's academic and professional goals.

Students who plan to take production courses should be aware that these courses may require five to ten hours of independent production or studio time a week in addition to the class meetings listed in the Course Schedule. All costs of production, such as the cost of film and film processing, actors' fees, and location fees, are borne by the student. The cost of most equipment is covered by tuition.

Order and Choice of Work

First Year

1. The student may take three courses from the following group each semester:
 - a. Rhetoric and Writing 306.
 - b. Courses to be counted toward the American history, American and Texas government, social and behavioral science, visual and performing arts, mathematics, and science and technology requirements of the core curriculum.
