The proposed certificate program incorporates content courses on the upper-division level that are taught in English on a variety of topics related to issues of diversity and global contact within the field of Iberian and Latin American Studies. With this program, we hope to address the needs of a student population that does not traditionally major in our field, but maintains an active interest in Iberian and Latin American cultural studies. Since there is no language proficiency requirement for the courses offered in this program, we anticipate the certificate will be an attractive option for students who major in related fields, such as International Relations and Global Studies, History, Anthropology, and Latin American Studies.
