HACK FOR RESILIENT COMMUNITIES

Saturday, February 29, 10:30 am – 7:30 pm

Perry Castañeda Library, UT
Learning Lab 1A Rm 2.370

Event Details

Design and implement software tools to improve community resiliency using:

- Real Austin data including transportation, pollution, weather, and health
- Use prototype custom and commercial sensors
Lunch and dinner provided

Hackers

No hacking/programming experience necessary

- All disciplines/career levels (students, professors, community members) welcome
- Bring your own team, or assemble on-site
Gift cards and prizes awarded

Transportation, Pollution, Weather, and Health

CO_2

RESILIENCE

Scan the QR code to REGISTER EARLY!
Advance registration ensures pre-approval of access to data at the hackathon.