Welcome to all Graduate Coordinators at UT Austin!

The Graduate Coordinator Network (GCN) is a voluntary, professional association of graduate coordinators representing around 12,818 graduate students in approximately 103 departments and programs across the University of Texas at Austin. The mission of the GCN is to serve as a dynamic and professional mentoring, training, and resource development group for Graduate Coordinators who support UT’s students, faculty, and graduate programs.

In addition to the monthly GCN General Meetings, the GCN provides a variety of training workshops, professional development, events and networking opportunities throughout the year.

The GCN also offers training and support to new Graduate Coordinators. We recommend bookmarking the GCN Calendar, as well as joining the GCN Teams and Listserv:
