INTRODUCTION:

This online handbook is generated and maintained by the College of Natural Sciences Postdoc Association leadership team, with the assistance of postdocs throughout the College. Our goal is to provide useful information for fellow postdocs, as we all strive to make the most of our time and experience at UT-Austin. If you have information to share regarding any of the topics included here, please don’t hesitate to reach out and let us know. This is your handbook – make it useful.

Information about university policies may not always be complete or up-to-date. We encourage postdocs to refer to official university webpages and resources, and to seek clarification or counsel from relevant university offices or departmental sources, when appropriate. If you see something in this handbook that should be changed, please let us know.
