McCombs Office365 & Active Directory Migration

Overview

In the coming months, McCombs will be migrating to the centrally run Active Directory and Office365 services. These changes are required by the University and will have impacts on the way McCombs users log into their computers, Office365 email and other services. This page will provide updates on the status of the migration project and reference information to help along the way. While our goal is to minimize disruption, these changes will require active participation from McCombs faculty, staff and other users of these services. For additional details, please review the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ).
