Unauthorized use of UT Austin computer and networking resources is prohibited. If you log in, you acknowledge your awareness of and concurrence with the UT Austin Acceptable Use Policy. The university will prosecute violators to the full extent of the law. The university is not responsible for services provided by third parties authorized to use the university's authentication service.

After successfully authenticating, you will be asked to create a passcode to access your Box documents on your Android device. For security reason, it is a best practice to select a passcode that is not the same as the passcode you use to unlock your device.
