

Duplex Printing

When duplex printing, it's important to select the correct edge orientation. This will ensure that your pages line up and the page sides aren't opposite orientations. If you're printing in a left-to-right read language, you will select "top-left." There are additional settings for layout types.

Portrait

To print portrait-layout duplex, you will need to select "long-edge."

Landscape

To print portrait-layout duplex, you will need to select "short-edge."

These simple steps will ensure you have an easy to read print.
