Listed Interest Groups

A listed organization is affiliated with DMS but is not registered through UT Student Affairs, typically having not completed the required trainings. These groups, can, however, still apply for Student Affairs funding through Dell Medical School.

Most of the listed student groups are Specialty Interest Groups. Dell Medical School seeks to expose its students to as many specialties as possible during their time as medical students. These student-led, faculty-sponsored specialty interest groups do everything from inviting speakers, holding skills labs, and coordinating research projects between students and faculty throughout the year.

Below are the current specialty interest groups with links to their respective pages where you can find contact information for the student leadership, as well as the other listed student groups.

- ASCO Cancer Interest Group
- Dermatology Interest Group (DIG)
- Emergency Medicine
- Global
- Health Career Academy (HCA)
- Internal Medicine Interest Group (IMIG)
- Military and Sports Medicine Interest Group (MSMIG)
- Neurology Interest Group (SIGN)
- Neurosurgery Interest Group (American Association of Neurological Surgeons Chapter)
- Ophthalmology Interest Group
- Pediatrics Interest Group (PSIG)
- Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Interest Group (PM&R)
- Psychiatry Interest Group
- Radiology Interest Group (RIG)
- Rad/Onc Interest Group
- Surgery Interest Group (SIG)
- Urology Interest Group (UIG)
- Women's Health Interest Group